

WEEKLY MINER

From Monday's Daily.

Deputy Sheriff Murphy left this afternoon on a tour of duty in the county.

Superintendent Wingfield is up from his home, on county business.

Col. Andrews, a genial and pleasant gentleman, and connected with our railroad branch, called to say on the MINER.

Curley Reed, one of our well known and popular citizens, came in last evening from the Rock.

C. C. Dean, Frank Crisp, J. H. Music, Tom B. H. and Mr. Smith arrived from Ash Fork last night.

The "Iniquitous Press of Prescott," we suppose will be the title to a sermon soon to be preached in this city.

The Board of Supervisors today paid 100 cents for the scalp of two lions and five bears aggregating the sum of $100.

W. A. Rowe, Geo. Hays and many other well known Prescottites are in from various parts of the county.

It is reported on the streets to-day that the Wilson and Hamilton will be in Prescott on next Thursday.

The Tugboat house room is being enlarged and fitted up in style becoming to their craft.

S. D. White, the popular journal clerk of the last Legislature, is booked for to-night's stage.

George Young is desirous of selling his well known ranch, in Skull Valley, and everything else connected with it. See his advertisement.

T. L. Chase and Mrs. P. M. Johnson left for Ash Fork this morning, and S. C. Howard was the only passenger on the Maricopa stage.

E. S. Junior is here from his camp in the Tiger district. No rain has been visited his section this year, but mining is being as vigorously pushed as ever, and the outlook never better.

Ribbins & Co. are steadily running the old Paso mill, and as long as water lasts will continue to extract much gold. A large shipment of bullion will be made this week.

Robert Stringfield was the successful bidder this morning for furnishing the County with fuel for the winter. For 25 cords of pine, and 25 cords of oak wood, his prices were $4.50 and $5.50 per cord, respectively.

The pendulum of the clock in Dr. Tyng's church in New York has not moved since it was first started, nearly twenty-six years ago—New York Journal.

Twenty-six days would apply very well to the Court House clock in this city.

The location of the Big Shad mine, district unknown, by S. F. Powell, J. S. R. and R. B. Waterman, and deed from H. T. Andrews et al. to P. A. Trede, for the Lynx Creek Hydraulic Works, for $500, are the late instruments filed with the County Recorder.

The Prescott and Whipple Baseball games yesterday had a friendly game, the score standing 23 to 31, in favor of the latter. The town boys were not accustomed to the curve racket, but feel confident of success next Sunday at the game to be played in West Prescott.

J. H. Hollister, a few days ago, was appointed teacher of the St. John's school, in Apache county, by the Territorial Board of Education, in this city. The appointment was made here on account of matters assuming a disagreeable hue and a misunderstanding among the local trustees in the above named county.

In consequence of the settling of the tower on the Court House, the Board of Supervisors to-day ordered Sheriff M. V. to procure other quarters, until the repair is made, in which to hold Court. The city hall has been secured and Court will open to-morrow at the usual hour there.

Marshall Meade and Mr. Chalmers arrived in our city last Saturday evening. The latter gentleman represents the Department of Justice in Washington, and if it does not take all summer in figuring up deficiencies of former high judicial officials of the government in this Territory, will have next week. This is Mr. Chalmers' first visit to Prescott and promises a glowing future for it.

The Rosa Lee and Gray Squirrel mining properties of Tim Hawkins in the Bradshaw, are undoubtedly as valuable as represented. Tim yesterday resorted to the panning process, in the rear of Bones & Spencer's store, and from less than a pound of ore washed out at least two dollars in coarse gold. Tim says he is now going to "develop" it, and thinks that he will have to substitute "Pauline" for that of "Rosa."

We hear that many of the 10th Cavalry soldiers were possessed by a strange ailment last week at Whipple, and had not medical assistance come at once to hand, the ranks of Co. B. would have been somewhat depleted in numbers. An indignant recruit it is said was at the bottom of it, on account of an imaginary delusion, and sought vengeance by infecting most with this deadly ailment. The matter is being investigated.

Hazley, in the employ of Judge L. H. met with an accident this afternoon on Union street, by his team taking a start, that fortunately resulted in a bruise on the head and chest, but not so serious as it might have been. He would not be injured internally.

Bishop Edell, found guilty of perjury last Wednesday, and Chas. Sterling, the counterfeiter, were sentenced this morning in Court, by Judge Howard, to a term of three years each in the house of correction at Detroit. The Bishop has three polygamist indictments yet hanging over his head, and he is anxious to get away from here. Sterling, likewise, has a number of charges yet to be adjudicated.

From Tuesday's Daily.

It looks favorable for a railroad.

Two men again peels forth a welcome note. There is a dance on the tapis to come off in Skull Valley.

The mining suit of Muldoon vs. Place is on trial in the District Court.

Secretary Van Arman has gone on a prospecting trip to Cataract Creek.

J. F. Anderson is permanently employed by the branch railroad people.

A great many desirable ranches can be purchased in this county at a low figure.

U. S. Marshal Meade and Col. Chalmers made the MINER office a visit to-day.

Mr. Kelly is cashier of the railroad company, and all debts will be promptly liquidated.

Three prisoners, Carter, Morgan and Smith, were released from the penitentiary last week.

Yet no rain in the valleys and grass is looking as tho' it had a severe attack of consumption.

Eli Pentney, who owns a fine farm in Williamson Valley, wishes to sell the same and migrate to Africa.

Judge Howard is now holding Court in the City Hall, pending repairs of the tower of the Court House.

The next U. S. Grand Jury will be called upon to look into crooked land matters in this Yavapai county.

Mr. McPherson (Uncle), a good granter of Kirkland Valley, was in the city this morning. He brought up ranch fruit.

L. P. Nash, one of the 13th, is in the city from "Tomb" Basin. His niece, Miss Annie, is to return soon from the States.

Geo. Ring, an influential and intelligent young man, for a long period in the employ of T. C. Bray & Co., has gone East for an indefinite period.

Charley Cathers left to-day for his home at Montezuma Wells, after a four weeks visit among old friends and acquaintances in the Capital.

The U. S. grand jury were investigating today the East Verde alleged election fraud. They found no conclusive evidence upon which to find an indictment.

Speeches delivered last Saturday on the occasion of memorial services, are highly eulogized. Ex-Chief Justice French delivered an exhaustive and masterly oration.

Orrick Jackson, former of the MINER, is off on a tour to Kirkland valley, where he will fill up on melons, peaches and other good things raised on the farms of his relatives.

Wallace Bacher, his wife and the beautiful Antelope, all of Sherman's tribe of Indians are in the city, and have rooms at the Williams house. Tell us that the Indian can't be civilized.

"Antelope," who has the undisputed honor of being the belle of the Mohave tribe of Indians, is here as a witness in the liquor case in Court, and by the bronzed style of her beauty, attracts much attention.

Hon. J. W. Dorrington, proprietor of this paper, is in San Francisco attending the memorial services of the late U. S. Grant.—Yuma Sentinel.

What part did he take in the service? Oat or looker-on?

The public has a right to know how men in public office make their money. The days of miracles are past, and when a man of no business qualifications, and with no visible income beyond a salary, becomes immensely rich, it is natural to think that he is a thief.—Star.

Death has called to another and we are hoping, a better world, the little four-year-old daughter, Clara, of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cowley, of Camp Wood, which and event occurred this morning at the residence of Mr. J. Q. Stevens.

Burial will take place from the M. E. Church to-morrow at 2 p. m.

The continued absence of rain is becoming a serious matter for our cattle-men and consequently for our whole population. Perhaps, after all, it is best that we should get down to the bedrock and take a fresh start, but it is rather hard on those who are directly interested. [Tucson Tailors.]

There are millions of dollars of idle money in the East. Interest rates are low, railroads are safe, manufacturing interests are at a stand still. Where and how shall this money be profitably invested? We would suggest the mines of Arizona. They would suggest the mines of Arizona. They would suggest the mines of Arizona. They would suggest the mines of Arizona.

Mr. Oscar Vanderbilt, Traveling Passenger Agent of the Northern Pacific, is on the high road to wealth. It is understood that he has an interest in a bathhouse at Indianapolis, where he makes his headquarters, which nets him an income of $100 a month. He also stands in with his employers, and the road has placed a $25,000 car at his disposal in which to take a party of 14 friends on a trip over the entire system. One need not be surprised to learn soon that Mr. Vanderbilt has acquired a title to the entire earth, with a mortgage on several of the more prominent planets.—Travelers Gazette.

Oscar is a brother to our fellow townsman Wm. H., than whom Prescott has no better or more upright young man. May he also get rich in our city.

Mr. A. H. Thompson, and his party, numbering twelve men, arrived in Flagstaff this week, equipped for a geographical and geological survey of lands, south of here, taking in an area of 60 miles in width and 120 miles in length. The government is sending out surveyors to map this country, and they will make camp at Flagstaff until November next. —Champion.

General Grant died without a uniform and without a sword, and his mortal remains are shrouded in a suit of plain citizen's clothes.

Arizona has watermelons, figs and Apples in the market. The latter, however, are mighty hard to procure, "by hook or by crook."—Journal of Commerce.

The Chilian miner is considered one of the strongest men in the world, and he lives principally on the lentil, the cheapest and most nutritious food known for its weight.

The little town of Anaconda, Montana, where the copper reduction works of the Anaconda mine are located, pays $150,000 per month for freight, or three times as much as Helena pays. This is what the opening of mines does for railroads and towns.—Portland (Or.) News.

The total yield of Georgia gold mines is now about $35,000 a month, or $400,000 a year. It is sold in what is called Georgia amalgam. It is sent to the mints and paid for in Government checks. Mining officials say that Georgia can yield $1,000,000 worth of bullion every year forever, more or less.

The pocketbook placed in Gen. Grant's pocket by his son Fred after the body was placed in the casket contained a lock of Mrs. Grant's hair and a simple note acknowledging the receipt of the letter for her which was found in the general's pocket after death, which she regarded as a message from the grave, and contained the following words: "Farewell until I meet thee in another world." The little act of affection was made gossip by the peering of a person who was there as a mourner and had no connection with the household.

Mr. McPherson (Uncle), a good granter of Kirkland Valley, was in the city this morning. He brought up ranch fruit.

"Crossed Man in Alabama."

"The crossed man in Alabama lives," said the driver as we approached a way-side home near Selma, Ala., to ask accommodations for the night. At the house, after a "mine host" scowled at every one, found fault with everything earthly, and I was wondering if he would not growl if the heavenly light didn't fit him, when the incident of the night being made of the count of 1882, he said: "I didn't like it; it's tail should have been a fan shaped."

But next morning he appeared half-dressed at our offering pay for his hospitality. My companion, however, made him accept as a present a sample from his case of goods.

Six weeks later, I drew up at the same house. The planter stepped lightly from the porch, and greeted me cordially. I could scarcely believe that this clear complexioned, bright-eyed, animated fellow, and the morose being of a few weeks back, were the same. He inquired after my companion of the former visit and regretted he was not with me.

"Yes," said his wife, "we are both much indebted to him."

"How?" I asked, in surprise.

"For this wonderful change in my husband. Your friend, when leaving, handed him a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure. He took it, and two other bottles, and now—" "And now?" he broke in, "from an ill-feeling, growling old bear, I am healthy and so cheerful my wife declares she has fallen in love with me again."

It has made over again a thousand love matches, and keeps sweet the tempers of the family circle everywhere. (Copyrighted.) Used by permission of American Rural Home.

THE JARPHYS.

An Argumentative Encounter, During Which the Subject of Divorce is Discussed, and the Brightening Up of the Grocery Trade.

"I see divorce is getting cheaper," I said, remarked Mr. Jarphys, with significant satisfaction to Mrs. Jarphys at the breakfast table yesterday morning.

"Are they?" said Mrs. Jarphys, with a look of surprise.

"Well, it is a good thing, and will be better yet if it only get cheap enough to be within the reach of some people I know," and the lady absent-mindedly centered her eyes on the milk-pitcher and smiled sweetly upon it.

That was a game of battle, and Jeremiah Jarphys knew it. When Mrs. Jarphys smiled on the milk-pitcher at the breakfast table, that meant war. Mr. Jarphys had recently written to Mr. Cleveland that he was a civil-service reformer, and would accept a post-office, and Mr. Cleveland had not replied to his letter. That made him irritable.

"Half the men in the world are fools for getting married, anyway," he muttered.

"And all the women are," replied Mrs. Jarphys, as she gave the milk-pitcher another stir.

"That's a good many wives in the world that it's a torture for a man to live with," remarked Mr. Jarphys as he drummed with a fork in retaliation for Mrs. Jarphys's smiling on the milk-pitcher.

"What do men marry them for, then?" asked Mrs. Jarphys.

"How's a man going to tell whether he can live with a woman or not until he marries her?" cried Mr. Jarphys.

"Let him find it out!" answered his wife with a womanly logic.

"Find out?" cried Mr. Jarphys.

"Find out! It's all courtship and taffy before marriage and vinegar and 'find out' afterwards!"

"Whose fault is it?" asked his wife with asperity.

"It's the women's!"

"Before marriage they show up all painted and varnished, and are too sweet for anything, and—"

"And are as polite and attentive, and—"

"And don't tell nothing about how they snore in their sleep, and—"

"And stay out at all hours, and—"

"And keep awake all night just to pick quarrels with their husbands when they come home, and—"

"And come home in a shameful condition, and—"

"And wear their hair in papers for him and in curls for other people, and—"

"And spend their money in disgracing their families instead of providing for them, and—"

"And jaw a man to death, and—"

"And make them slave from morning until night, and—"

"And think more of dress than of their wifely duties, and—"

"And go—"

"And don't—"

"And—"

"And—"

"And—"

"And—"

"And—"

"And—"

"And—"
